BUILDING A SAFE, JUST, AND SUSTAINABLE WORLD SINCE 1992

As You Sow agreed to withdraw the proposal in light of the Company's expressed concern about polystyrene foam production, its limited availability of recycling options and role in contributing to plastic pollution on land and in waterways; the fact that the Company has already removed foam as a packing option in materials it ships directly to consumers; and its willingness to engage its value chain and industry peers to discuss replacing foam with more environmentally sustainable alternatives. The Company plans to make a public statement on this topic during the first half of Target's 2017 fiscal year.
